

March 26 and 27 2019

Cork

Call for Speakers

Would you like to speak at Reliability Ireland 2019? Is your organisation regarded as a leader in its industry? Do you have valuable knowledge to share about a case study? A successful technology or project implementation? Or a new and better way of doing things in your company?

Reliability Ireland is a learning and networking conference for engineers responsible for maintenance, reliability, continuous improvement, condition monitoring or asset management in the manufacturing, power generation and fleet management sectors.

This is the fourth reliability-centred thought-leadership conference presented by T.E. Laboratories (TelLab) following Reliability Ireland 2016 and 2017 and our first overseas reliability conference, Reliability UK, which took place in Manchester in autumn 2018.

Taking place in Cork on 26 and 27 March, this year's 2-day event is designed to address the key knowledge gaps engineers responsible for reliability and maintenance in industry are seeking to address right now.

Key themes of Reliability Ireland 2019 will include

- 21st Century Condition Monitoring and Preventative Maintenance
- Next-Generation Reliability & Asset Management for Industry 4.0
- Strategy, leadership, training and culture for reliability project success

The event will also feature

- Site visits aimed at learning from best practice in relevant industries
- An exhibition area, where suppliers of reliability-centred products and services will be demonstrating new launches and approaches

- A social programme designed to help delegates make new industry contacts and build their professional network.

We are now seeking potential speakers to submit presentation proposals.

We are interested in speakers who can share industry case studies as well as new concepts and new ideas. Speakers must adhere 100% to our "NO COMMERCIALISM" policy and share their information in an educational, non-commercial and non-self-promotional manner. If you cannot avoid commercialism, please do not agree to speak at Reliability Ireland.

How to submit a presentation proposal

If you would like to speak at Reliability Ireland 2019, please submit your presentation proposal before the end of December 2018 using the online form at www.reliabilityireland.ie/speakers

Or email reliabilityireland@tellab.ie, with the following information

- Name and Contact details
- Company name
- Title of presentation
- 100- to 500-word summary, covering key areas such as
 - The problem/challenge/novel idea;
 - The solution, technology or strategy implemented;
 - Any implementation obstacles/barriers;
 - The results/benefits achieved and
 - Where next.

Once received, your submission will be passed on to our committee for evaluation and we will response to you in due course.